

THE MAXWELL PARENTING & FAMILY PROGRAM

Families matter because the future matters.

Imagine if you learned the strategies and the structure for raising your children that:

- Didn't involve raising your voice or pulling out your hair.
- Changed your thinking and your child's behavior toward discipline.
- Made you feel confident and in charge.
- Brought out the best in you and your children.
- Equipped you with values and principles that are desperately needed in the family unit.

THE VISION

The vision of the Maxwell Parenting and Family coaching program is to equip, empower and enlighten families to become the highest version of themselves so that the next generation has every opportunity to reach their divine destiny.

THE GOAL

The goal of the Maxwell Parenting and Family program is to intentionally work together with parents, schools, churches and youth organizations to raise, rebuild and restore a brighter future for families nationally and internationally.

THE MISSION

To change the world, one family at a time. When we change ourselves, we can change our lives. When we change our lives we can transform our homes and our children. When we transform our children we can affect change in our communities. When we change our communities we can transform our country, and when we transform our country, we can change the world!

The Maxwell Parenting & Family program is designed to equip parents to use proven methods for raising well-balanced, well-behaved and well-adjusted children.
